

Alex Cousins is a genre-defying cellist, composer, and creative force whose work spans the full emotional spectrum, blending raw honesty with refined technical mastery. Based in Buffalo, New York, he performs across multiple musical dimensions—as a solo artist, creator, and founder of Strings Unbound, an immersive electric cello project redefining how audiences experience the instrument.

A graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music at Johns Hopkins University (M.M., 2020), Alex has performed on stages ranging from intimate concert halls to large-scale arenas, including South by Southwest (2023), Kleinhans Music Hall, and KeyBank Center, where he shared the stage with The Eagles in 2022. He was nominated for Best Other Instrumentalist at the 2024 All Western New York Music Awards.

With Strings Unbound, Alex continues to expand the electric cello's sonic identity—merging classical precision with modern tone design, ambient texture, and unfiltered emotional power. From soaring melodies to thunderous grooves, his music invites listeners to feel deeply, reconnect with themselves, and experience the cello as a living voice of the soul.
